The October Issue of In The Neutral Zone and a New SDRCC Resource are now Available

Montréal (Québec) - The October 2015 issue of In the Neutral Zone, the newsletter of the Sport Dispute Resolution Centre of Canada (SDRCC), is now available online at <http://www.crdsc-sdrcc.ca/eng/media-newsletters>. In this edition, an article by AthletesCAN addresses the future of athlete agreements with their national sport organizations. In addition to the profile of an SDRCC mediator-arbitrator, the newsletter also provides some SDRCC news, including the announcement of its upcoming Mediator and Arbitrator Conference.

The Centre is also proud to announce the launch of its new tool, Access to SDRCC Resolution Services. The purpose of this flow chart is to help members of the sport community understand where they stand in an appeal process and to know if or when they can appeal a decision to the SDRCC. It is available in a static pdf version as well as through an interactive platform at the following link: <http://www.crdsc-sdrcc.ca/eng/dispute-resource-publications>.

To better serve the Canadian sport community, the SDRCC welcomes comments and feedback regarding its newsletter and educational materials. This can be done by contacting Cynthia Colas Livernois, Education and Communication Coordinator, at ccolas@crdsc-sdrcc.ca.

About SDRCC

The SDRCC is a not-for-profit corporation created by federal legislation and funded by the Government of Canada. The mission of the SDRCC is to provide the sport community with a national alternative dispute resolution service and strengthen the culture of fairness in Canadian sport by resolving disputes quickly and efficiently and to provide expertise and assistance regarding alternative dispute resolution.
